What is a telecom battery backup system?

A telecom battery backup system is a comprehensive portfolio of energy storage batteries used as backup power for base stations to ensure a reliable and stable power supply. As we are entering the 5G era and the energy consumption of 5G base stations has been substantially increasing, this system is playing a more significant role than ever before.

Could a 5G power outage be a disaster?

Telecom infrastructures are connecting our society, but power outages could be a disaster because even the smallest fluctuation in power could result in communication blackouts or network failures. Investing in a telecom battery backup system is always one of the priorities for telecommunication operators in the 5G era.

What is a 5G backhaul power supply?

The backhaul part of the 5G network connects the access interface - including masts, eNodeB, and cell site gateway - to the mobile core and internet beyond. And just like the access equipment, it too has specific power supply requirements. Backhaul power supplies must cater to aggregation routers and core routers.

Should telecommunication operators invest in a telecom battery backup system?

Investing in a telecom battery backup system is always one of the priorities for telecommunication operators in the 5G era. Sunwoda 48V telecom batteries have a capacity covering 50Ah-150Ah, which can easily meet the power backup needs of macro and micro base stations.
